Drift Range Guide

With a variety of curved sofas and configurable back segments, the Drift range enables you to create your own unique work, breakout or social space.

So whether you wish to create open-plan communal seating configurations perfect for sharing ideas and socialising, or smaller zones for focused work and study, Drift allows you to do so.

The range consists of 9 curved sofas – each with different radiuses – and 3 straight sofas.

Key Features

12 different sofa modules to suit areas of all shapes and sizes

Configurable back segments

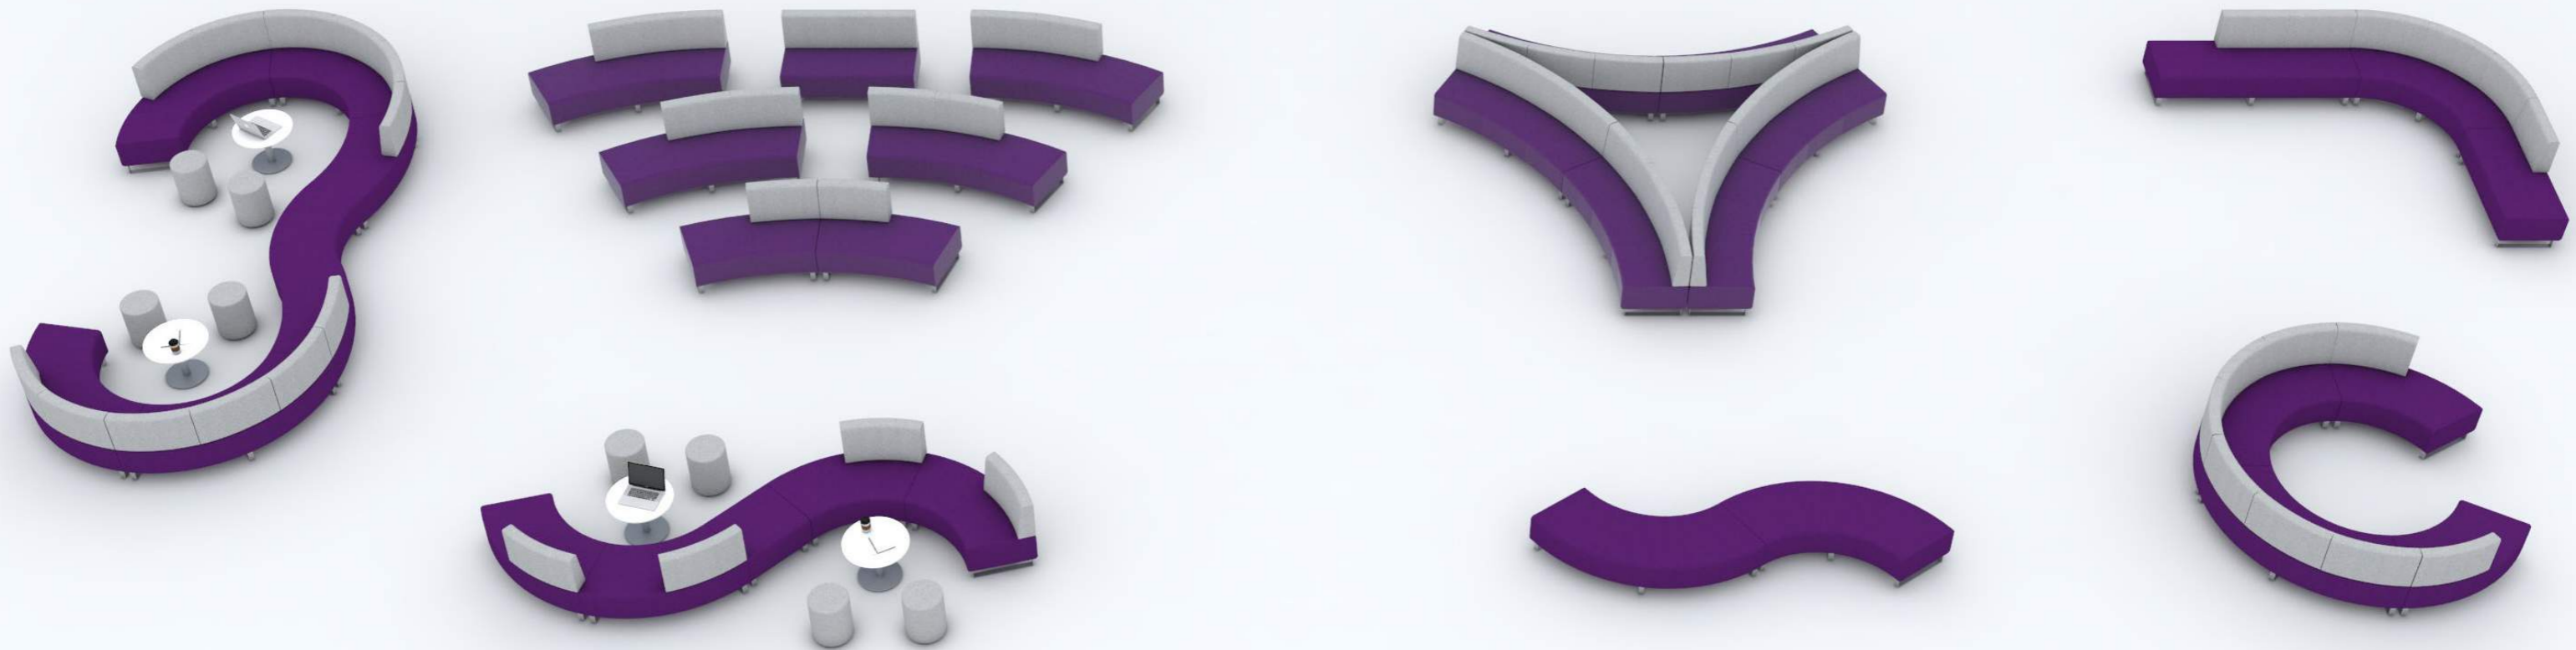

Wide range of applications - from breakout and reception areas to auditorium-style seating configurations

Can be upholstered in an array of fabrics and vinyls

Two-tone upholstery option available

Brushed stainless steel sled style legs

Below: Some of the flexible configurations possible with Drift's expansive range of straight and curved seating modules.

Top: Drift Wave: a funky and stylish seating configuration, sure to add a wow factor to breakout areas and create a great first impression with clients in reception spaces.

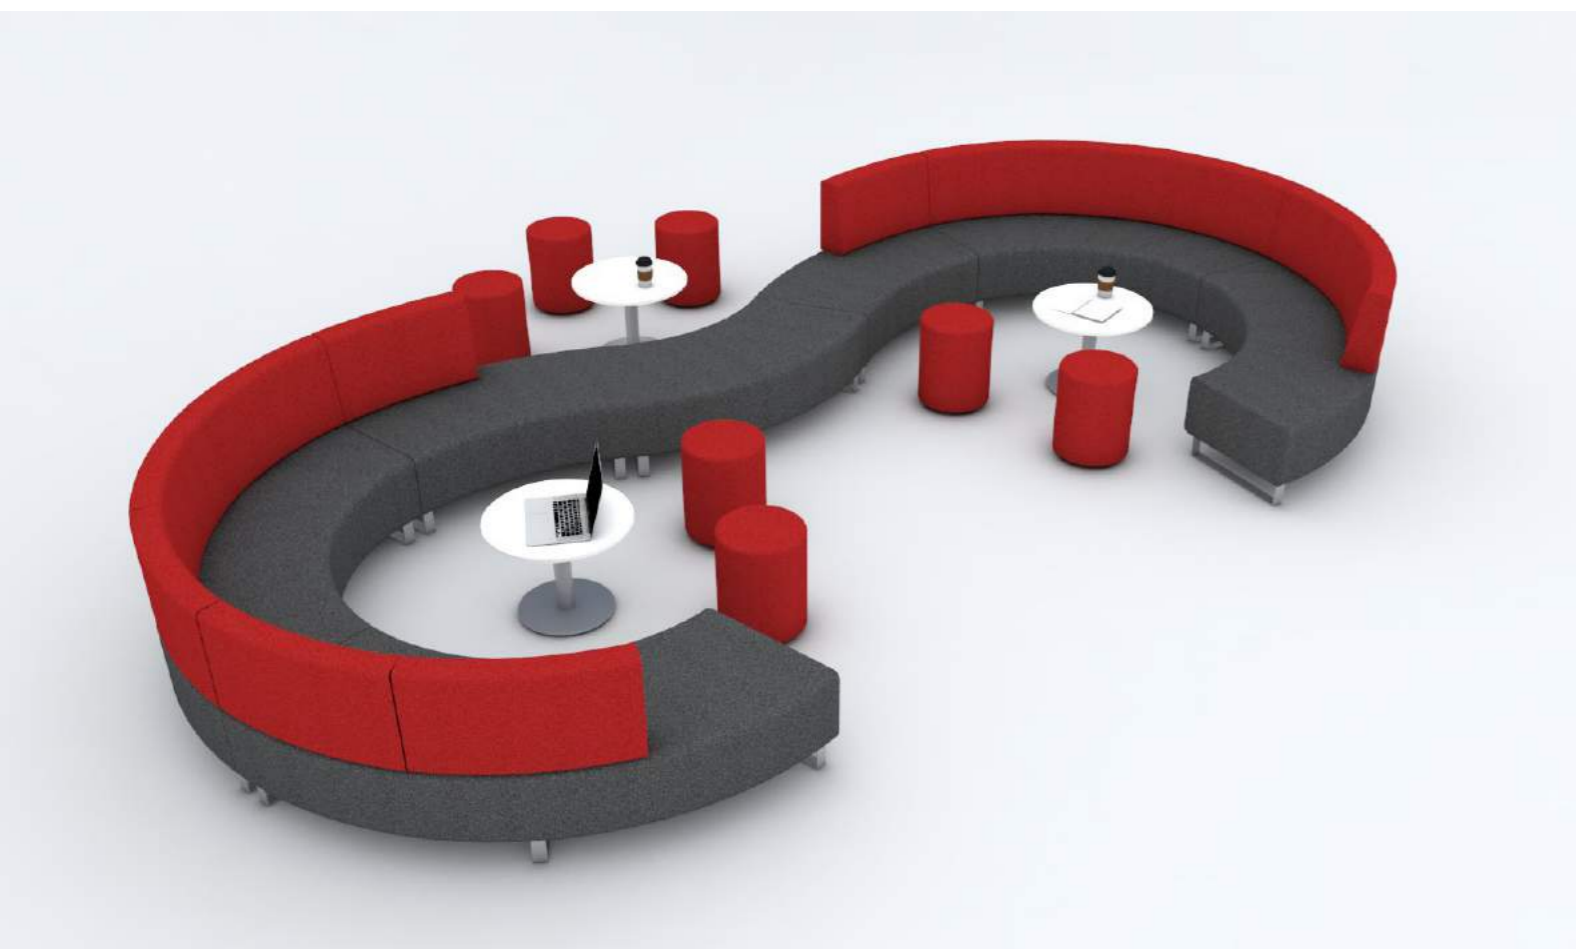

Middle: Drift Boomerang: great for receptions and waiting areas, and can be created in a variety of sizes to fit your space with an extensive range of curved sofas.

Bottom: Drift Audience: a stylish, modern and flexible seating solution designed for spaces to host presentations and team briefings. Shown in the offices of Creator, a digital design agency in London Victoria.

Bottom: Drift Freeflow: an expansive seating arrangement that is perfect for use in open-plan breakout areas, as well as for collaborative team meetings.

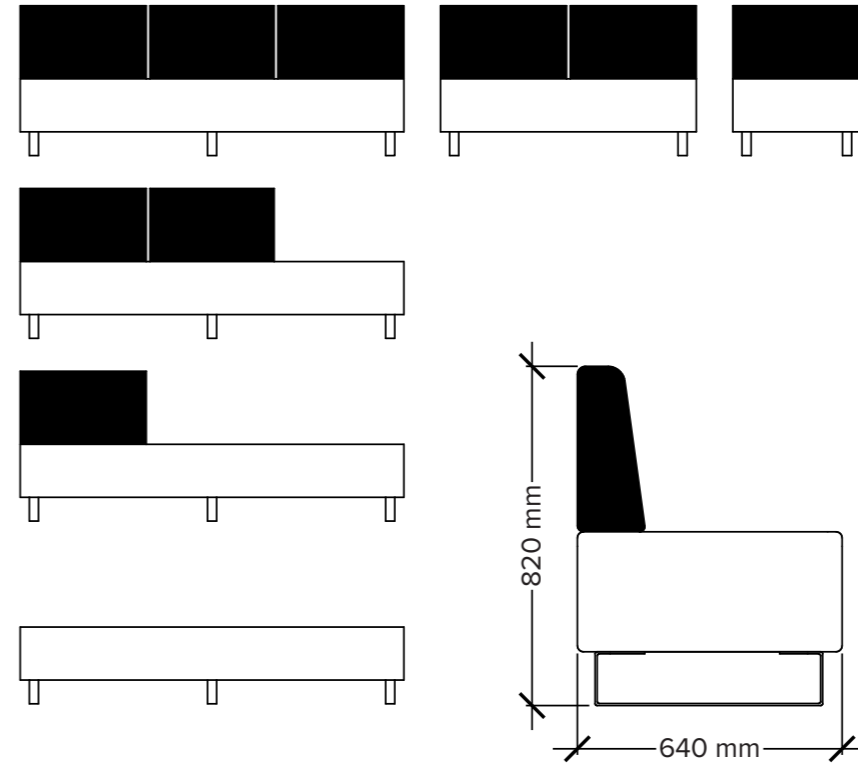

Top: Drift Ellipse: a communal seating configuration perfect for bringing people together to share, socialise and collaborate.

Middle: Break the Drift Ellipse into two, to create an open meeting space for groups to meet, collaborate and relax.

Bottom: Drift Wave: used by Loughborough University, to create a space for students and staff alike, to relax and socialise.

Configurable Back Segments

Each Drift unit comes with configurable back segments, customisable to create flexible and versatile configurations.

Three seat, two seat and one seat units have three, two and one configurable back segments respectively. Back segments can be configured to the left or right hand side of the seat when ordering.

Seating Modules

12 different seating modules, each with configurable back segments, ideal for creating the perfect seating arrangement for any space.
